HILLES SUCCEEDS TO CHAIRMANSHIP.

Chosen to Head Republican National Committee.

Reynolds Elected Secretary, Other Officers Postponed.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Charles D. Hilles, President Taft's secretary, was today chosen chairman of the Republican national committee, and James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts, a member of the tariff board, secretary. These selections were made by the nine members of the national committee acting as sub-committee, after conferences with President Taft.

Chairman Hilles and the full national committee will meet Friday, July 19, at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, to appoint a treasurer, other officers, an executive committee and an advisory committee. At today's meeting Otto Bannard of New York, Charles G. Dawes and David R. Forgon of Chicago, John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, E. F. Swinney of Kansas City and John Hays Hammond of Washington were all considered for the office of treasurer, but not even a tentative decision was reached.

Mr. Hilles will resign his office as secretary to the President Saturday night. It is thought unlikely that Mr. Taft will appoint a successor, but he will turn the business of the executive officers over to the the two assistant secretaries, Rudolph Forster and Sherman Allen.

Headquarters of the national committee are to be opened in New York the first of next week. The opening of a middle Western headquarters at Chicago, and a Pacific Coast headquarters a Portland, Ore., was practically decided upon. Ralph E. Williams, former Republican national committeeman for Oregon, was practically selected to take charge of the far Western office.

"NOT WORTH WHILE."

Taggart Says They Did Not Figure Up Senate Campaign Expenses.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—"When we got through it was not worth while," replied Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee of 1904, when asked today by the Senate campaign expenditure committee if he ever figured up the receipts and expenditures of his committee during the Parker campaign.

"The court will tae judical notice of that," retorted Chairman Clapp.

Mr. Taggart swore that while the treasurer's book came into his possession, just before the Denver convention in 1908, he burned them and other dead matters before turning over organization records to Norman E. Mack, the new chairman. In 1908, Mr. Taggart was unable to remember much about contributions. From hearsay he expressed a belief that August Belmont, Thomas F. Ryan and Cord Meyer, all of New York, had contributed.

"These probably were three among thousands, but I just do not remember the others" said Mr. Taggart.

The witness estimated that the committee had 20 or 30 men solicting funds throughout the state. He insisted that George F. Peabody, the treasurer, had charge of the finances or was, at least, in a positon to know all about them. After the campaign Mr. Taggart said Mr. Peabody resigned and August Belmont succeeded him.

CHAVES BOMBARDED BY THE ROYALISTS.

Unsuspected Attack Repulsed by the Republicans.

LISBON, July 9.—The Royalists played a ruse on the Republican troops today, but in the end it cost them dearly. They returned to the city of Chaves while being pursued to the town of Montalegre. They arrived unsuspected by the Republicans and bombarded Chaves with their newly acquired artillery bombs. The Republican troops discovered their error later and returned to defend the besieged town.

The Royalists, who outnumbered the Republicans by three to one, consisted of two united bands, headed by Captain Couseiro and Captain Camache. They retreated slowly, leaving a number of dead and wounded on the field, and finally disappeared into the mountains, some of them crossing the Spanish frontier and even then continuing to fire upon the Republican troops. The Republicans lost several killed and wounded, including two officers.

The news of the battle which lasted for three hours, was received with cheers in the Chamber of Deputies, and a law was passed at once authorizing the government to suspend the constitutional guarantees wherever necessary and to extend the state of siege to the district of Villa Real.

Other bills were adopted by the Chamber providing for the passing of summary judgment on persons accused of sedition or rebellion by military tribunals, and also for the payment of pensions to the families of soldiers dying for the republic. The Republicans have imprisoned in the town of Chaves Joao Almeida a distinguished soldier, who won glory in the African campaigns under the monarchy.

Many of the inhabitants in the disturbed districts display open sympathy with the Royalists, but the army and navy remain loyal.

Revolutionary outbreaks are reported to have occurred in Cabeceiras de Basto, where the manager and secretary of the treasury office were killed. Battleship Vasco da Gama, which was sent to Oporto in connection with the revolutionary outbreak, went aground today near the port of Espozende. Cruiser Sao Gabriel, which is now stationed at the Azores, has received orders to return to Portugal. The monarchists today made an unsuccessful attempt to penetrate the Portuguese frontier near Geriz.

PORTUGUESE OFFICER SHOT.

Life of One Who Urged Soldiers to Turn Against Republic Taken.

MADRID, July 9.—Advices received from the Portuguese frontier say that the Portuguese Royalists lost 50 killed and 200 wounded in a battle today at Chaves. The Republican losses are not given. One of the Portuguese officers who urged the soldiers to turn against the republic was shot dead by his men.

STEAMER ARRIVED.

RUN AWAY WITH TWO FIRST PLACES.

Americans Victorious in the 5,000-Metres Flat Race.

United States Leads by Five Points in All Olympic Events.

STOCKHOLM, July 9.—The United States leads by five points in all the events contested at the Olympic games, including swimming, athletics, shooting and all other kinds of sports, up to this morning, according to the list compiled by the officials here. The score read: United States 59, Sweden 54, Great Britain 36, France 17, South Africa 11, Germany 11, Denmark 10, Finland 8, Norway 7, Italy 5, Hungary 4, Russia 3, Austria 3, Greece 3, Holland 1, Australia 1.

The United States cannot increase her lead today, because in the only event which is to be concluded, the the only events which were concluded, the javelin throwing, all three places were won by the Finnish team, and the relay race, in which the American team was disqualified in the preliminaries, was certain to go elsewhere.

The trial heats of the 1500-metres flat race furnished nothing extremely surprising except the double victory of the Swedes in the fifth heat. There were seven heats and the two leaders in each are to run in the final tomorrow.

The Americans displayed better judgment in this race than in some of the preceding events. John Paul Jones, Oscar Hedlund and Walter McClure were content to take second places rather than strain themselves by hard races for first places.

After the first heat in this race A. Hare of Great Britain declared that Melvin W. Shephard had spiked him, pushing him on the grass while running. members of the national committee to make a protest, but the managers of the English team declined. The English and Americans appear desirous of avoiding any clashes and are attempting to heal the breach which occurred in 1908.

The fourth day of the athletic section of the games began today in dull weather, with rain in prospect. Several thousands of enthusiasts assembled for the principal event of the morning, which was the decision of the first three trial heats of the 5,000-metres flat race. Americans had the satisfaction of seeing two of their men run away with two first places.

George V. Bonhag, Irish-American Athletic Club, gave a fine exhibition in the first heat, Louis Scott, South Paterson Young Men's Christian Association, took the second heat by hard work. Garnet M. Wickoff, University of Ohio, was the only representative of the United States in the third heat, and he was unable to finish.

Wrestling proceeded simultaneously with the running, but slow headway was made with that part of the program. The list of competitors ran into the hundreds.

Bonhag ran the first heat of the 5,000-metres race in his own way. He easily led the field throughout, except for a brief moment in the middle of the race, when Hill, the Australian, went ahead during the last mile. Bonhag was 15 yards ahead of Decoteau, the Canadian, with Hibbins of England, another 15 yards behind, and the two other starters 150 yards back when they entered the last lap. The Canadian then drew up and finished

THE WILLIAM LEYS DRY GOODS CO.

Successors to Wm. Sherman Co.

The store that's 150 years young is now starting a fresh and vigorous new growth.

For nearly a century and a half—ever since the year 1770—the people of Newport have been coming to what is now known as The Century Store for their dry goods and kindred wares and during all that long period—five full generations—they have never been disappointed in style, quality or price.

The grand old house of Wm. Sherman Co. built up its great fame by shrewd buying, square selling and clean merchandising. It has held a warm place in the hearts of all the citizens of Newport, their parents, grandparents and great-grandparents. It was an early example of the now popular "square deal." It was the foremost store in all respects.

When we succeeded this honorable firm, it was with the fixed resolve to preserve inviolate the best traditions of our predecessors; to aim high, and to strike even higher; to serve the public with the same fidelity that characterized the long business career of the founders of this business, and thus to maintain and deserve the full confidence of this community. And all this we shall do.

But greater service demands greater facilities, and that is why we are erecting a new business building on the "old stand" which in equipment, comfort and convenience will be second to none in this Commonwealth. This building is nearly finished, and we shall occupy a portion of it.

GREAT BARGAIN SALE PREPARATORY TO MOVING.

To provide for the orderly removal of our stock to the new building, we shall be compelled to close our doors for a few days, from July 15th to July 19th. We propose to open our new establishment with a clean, fresh stock and therefore shall close out all odd lots before we move.

THIS CLEARING SALE WILL COMMENCE TOMORROW MORNING.

The variety of special offerings is too great to mention in detail. We can only say that the bargains in many lines are phenomenal, and early purchasers will be rewarded with substantial money-savings.

COME TO THE OLD STORE TOMORROW—EARLY!

ORIGINAL PROGRESSIVES.

Effort Being Made to Change Name of the Prohibition Party.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 8.—Maintaining that the Prohibition party is the original progressive party, a determined effort will be made by its leaders to change the party name at the national convention, which opens here Wednesday. With the prospect of a new party under the Roosevelt leadership now practically assured, Prohibition leaders here, in advance of the convention, insist that if any party is entitled to be named "Progressive" it is theirs, which ever has stood for advanced political principles.

Though the party to be formed next month in Chicago is being referred to as the "Progressive party", the Prohibitionists point to the fact that that organization, as yet unborn, has not been christened and that they are entitled to the new name if they choose to take it. The movement to re-christen the party has been considered for some time and at this convention delegates from all the states are coming prepared to take a determined stand. The New York, Pennsylvania and Nebraska delegations are reported to be practically solid in favor of a change of name.

"The name 'Prohibition party' is an unfortunate one for us," said Charles R. Jones, chairman of the national committee. "It is not a progressive name and does not reflect the party's character. We are progressive in all things. Of course our basic principle is the suppression of the liquor traffic, but even prohibition does not fully express that.

"Our party is the original progressive party and at this convention we expect to deal carefully and progressively with all the big political issues of the time. For many years the movement to change the name has been growing and in this campaign I would not be surprised to see the movement a success. The name 'Progressive' was suggested several years ago and our official newspaper now contains the word 'Progressive' in its title. Other names that have been suggested are the 'American' and 'Liberty' party.

"We do not believe that a third party, headed by Mr. Roosevelt, will have any effect upon our cause in the next campaign. Our people know that Roosevelt is not all in sympathy with our movement".

Delegates to the convention arrived today by the hundreds. Conferences of state delegations begin tonight, when the national committee will meet. The executive committee today will complete plans for the temporary organization. Clinton N. Howard of Rochester N. Y., known as the "little giant", probably will be chosen temporary chairman of the convention.

CAMORRISTS SENTENCED.

One of Them Cuts His Throat and in Serious Condition.

VITERBO, Italy, July 8.—The verdict in the Camorrist case declares Corrado Sortino guilty of both murders; Nicola Morra, Antonio Carrato and Mariano di Gennaro guilty of the murder of Cucolo, and Guiseppe Salvi guilty of the murder of Cuocolo's wife, Enrico Alfano, the alleged leader of the Camorrists; Giovanno Rapi, Di Marinas and the others are convicted of being instigators of the crime.

The police court immediately sentenced the condemned men. Sortino, Carrato, Salvi, Morra, Di Gennaro, Alfano, Rapi and Di Marinas were sentenced to 30 years imprisonment and to 10 years police surveillance; Di Mattio to 10 years and six months imprisonment and 10 years surveillance; Ascrittore to 10 years imprisonment and three years surveillance; Vitozzi, the priest, to seven years imprisonment and two years surveillance; the others to five years imprisonment and three years surveillance.

When the accused men were placed in the iron cage to hear the verdict, Di Morra suddenly drew forth a piece of glass and cut his throat. He fell to the floor of the cage. The other prisoners screamed like wild animals, shouting invectives and imprecations. Vitozzi knelt weeping and praying. Di Morra is in a serious condition.

Women, whose hands were their humiliation, now take pride in their soft whiteness, the result of using Welcome Laundry Soap.
So today there is twice as much Welcome Soap sold in New England as any other brand, because it protects the hands as well as finest fabrics. Gets the wash out fast and makes the clothes bright as a new dollar.
One reason for this is the fact that there is five times as much Borax used in Welcome as in all other New England laundry soaps put together—just enough to perfectly soften the water and to make Welcome do more than any other soap.
A big cake 5c—of your grocer. You owe it to your hands and to your clothes to try Welcome today.

"THE BLUE WALL."

"The Blue Wall," by Richard Washburn Childs, will appeal to lovers of mystery, for there is a mystery so strange and haunting as to satisfy the most exacting. In addition, however, it is a study of heredity, with a keen insight into character which will claim the readers' absorbed attention. The story opens with the question, "What is behind this wall?" and before this is answered peculiar events, strange adventures and curious incidents are interwoven in a thrilling tale.

The book purports to be the diary of a medical man dealing with a peculiar case. A sick child believes there is something behind the wall of her room, but she cannot tell what it is. This belief affects the disease from which she is suffering. When the matter-of-fact physician attempts to discover what lies beyond the wall he becomes involved in a strange and peculiar mystery.

Judge Colfax is a man honored and respected by all, yet he seems to be under a cloud of some sort. After his death the same mystery clings to his daughter, the beautiful Julianna, and the effect of it is felt by her husband, Jermyn Estabrook, a young man of good family, who has a high sense of honor and suffers miserably because of this mystery. Others involved in the trouble are Margaret Murchie, a servant in the Colfax household, devoted to the judge and his daughter, but whose crafty and sentimental nature brings sorrow to those whom she loves, and the Sheik of Suabec, an automatic chess player in the Natural History rooms.

Heredity has much to do with the story. Two of the characters, believing they have inherited wicked and immoral tendencies, simply because their fathers were not good men, start on a downward course. One of them, however, begins to feel that it is not her inheritance, but the fear of her inheritance, which is beginning to cause her undoing. Thereupon she fights an evil habit which she had acquired simply by thinking that it was not in her to combat it. The intensity of her struggles and the suffering she causes not only herself but innocent persons are somewhat compensated by the glorious victory she achieves. The other, a strong man, believing implicitly in the law of heredity, goes deeper and deeper into sin and degradation until he becomes a drunkard and murderer. Had Monty Cranch known nothing of the evil life of his father he might have become a good and upright man—such is the impression produced upon the reader.

There are several illustrations and the book is published by the Houghton Mifflin Company.

The House Not Likely to Agree to Measure Amended to Carry Two Battleships.

Indicating that the House would not agree to the naval appropriation bill as amended by the Senate to carry two battleships, Representative Padgett, chairman of the House naval affairs committee, has announced that he would refuse to accede to any of the Senate changes which have increased the bill by $15,0000. It is believed there will be a deadlock on the measure.

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM.

BY A SPECIALIST.

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well-known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

Caution: Do not apply where hair is not desired and be sure to avoid tonics containing poisonous wood alcohol.

Before publication we presented this prescription to Hall & Lyon Pharmacy, this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

IDOLS.

[Cary F. Jacob, in National Magazine.]

In sooth, we fashion every day
Our little gods of common clay.
Our little gods of great and fair,
And store their in some niche away,
And kneel before them in the dust
Our little gods in whom we trust.

But when in quiet hours apart
The evening light steals o'er our heart,
Our little gods on whom we call,
Our cherished idols of the mart,
Down from their niche within the wall,
Like shards in fragments round us fall.

Yet, ere the miracle of light
Its roses casts at fleeting night,
Our hands their labors have begun
To set each broken piece aright,
And build them over every one
For worship at the rise of sun.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

THE DEMOCRATIC BID

The Baltimore convention is bidding high for support. It is offering something to the sailors. It is very solicitous about the welfare of the miners. It desires a Department of Labor, to devote all its attention to the working people, or rather the wage earners, who are now merged with the merchants in the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce and Labor. It wishes to find some way of lending money to the farmers. It is anxious for further restrictions on the use of the injunction, with evident reference to strikes.

It is very sure that the produce exchanges are robbing the farmers and is determined to do something about it. The Democratic House has already passed a bill which would come pretty close to legislating the exchanges out of existence; quotations could not be sent by mail or telegraph. The effect of this would be to shut out of the produce markets many buyers. If there were no speculative demand for wheat, corn and cotton and the demand were solely from millers and manufacturers it would be small in comparison with the supply in the fall and large in the spring. Prices would be low when the farmer must sell and high after they had sold out all or nearly all their crops. However, nothing except experience will convince the farmers as a class of this, and probably even experience would not. The fact that the result was not what they expected would not prove to them that they were wrong; it would only convince them that the Money Power had found some new and nefarious way of defeating their lofty purposes.

These are most of the features which constitute the progressiveness of the platform. It requires a good deal of imagination to compare this with the Republican platform and recognize that the latter was dictated by Wall street or "the interests", while the former is the product of the friends of the people. Of course there are differences. Most of these points are not in the Republican platform, yet there is a good deal there to the same purport, except in regard to trading in futures.

THE WISE USE OF THE VACATION.

The vacation habit is one which has developed rather suddenly with many within the past few years. It is a new experience which has come with other modern ideas of the right way of living. Though many have learned how to derive the greatest amount of good from the play time which most people take once in the year's course, there are a large number who waste this rest period by working harder at finding enjoyment than they do in the same time in their business. They are not content to use this time just to rest and recuperate their strength for the days to come but must hurry from one resort to another, from city to city, to indulge in the so-called pleasures of the summer season. At the end of their vacation they return home weary and unnerved, and really needing more rest for tired minds and bodies than when they went away.

It is a question if a vacation to people of this kind is not more harmful than if they remained at home and went about their regular duties day by day without change. They are too strenuous in their energetic drive to see everything possible in the time they have taken for their vacation, and reap the consequences by coming back more tired than when they departed. Those, on the other hand, who look forward to the time when they can quietly pack a few belongings and depart for mountains or seashore or for the camp in the deep woods, who thrust business cares behind them and live to the utmost the simple life, who learn the many lessons which mother nature teaches from day to day and keep these lessons close with them, who rest and gain strength for the days to come, are the persons to whom a vacation means everything the word implies. For such it is a rest time and a play time which they will keep in memory many months, to look back upon as one of the pleasures of life which can be duplicated every year if they spend these vacation days as they were meant to be spent, in gaining strength and change from the ceaseless round of business cares.

The vacation habit is an admirable one if rightly used and most business firms are finding that it pays them many times to give their employes a yearly furlough. They find that not only do their men come back in the majority of cases in better health and strength but they take much more interest in their duties than they would if they had not had their time of recreation. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" was evidently uttered by some one who realized the worth of a vacation. All need it, all look forward to it, and those who have learned how to secure the greatest amount of good from days spent away from office or shop realize that these vacation times have become an important part of their lives. They appreciate the experiences gained, the memories stored away, the friends made, the lessons learned from novel sights and insights, and a hundred things besides which are to be treasured and brought forth many times when the vacation days are over, to be talked about and lived again with a pleasure which only those who have had this experience can know. Each year more people are forming the vacation habit and each year sees fewer tired men in office, shop or factory. It is a habit worth acquiring, for life is too strenuous in these modern days and these rest times along the way are needed to maintain strength and health to perform the duties of every-day life.

SOCIAL LIFE AMONG SAVAGES.

The Mafullas live—well, it makes no difference where they live; we do not wish to go there and are not in the least likely to stumble upon them by accident. They are savages characterized by a menu which renders them exceptionally obnoxious to us, but an Englishman has been staying with them and is now telling the scientifically inclined people of London that their social habits are very interesting. His description, however, is not calculated to lead to a rush of globe trotters in the direction of the corner of the world occupied by the Mafullas. Cook will not presently be selling tickets thither with the passenger's option of going by Suez or around the Horn.

Some of their customs, however, do bear a curious resemblance to ours. For example, the people are much given to wearing great structures of feathers. Evidently they are even larger than our willow plumes, and the fact that our feather topknots are smaller than those of the Mafullas and are worn only by the "female of the species" shows that we have advanced farther along the road to civilization than they.

Another point of contact is that wives are luxuries in which only the rich can indulge freely. The laws of the Mafullas impose no restraint upon polygamy, but few of the men have more than one wife, though the cost of a domestic establishment cannot be high where there are no clothes to buy and daughters are an asset which can be traded off for pigs. Every village has a clubhouse where the unmarried men live, and the only difference between the Mafulla custom and ours is that with us the married men spend a good deal of their time at the clubhouse, a practice of which the married women used to complain but which they now, with clubs of their own, find exceedingly convenient.

In regard to that feature of the menu which we dislike most, the prevailing animal food is pig in the ordinary sense of the word, not the metaphorical. What, is sometimes called "long pig" is only eaten when killed in battle or a fight, and in the latter case the killers cannot have any. It will be noticed that this nicely removes hunger from the incentives to murder. They are a very pleasant people, these Mafullas.

Although the House committee decided unanimously to bring impeachment charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the Commerce Court, it is possible that the Senate will delay the proceedings. Many of the Senators, including the influential Republicans, are in favor of deferring the trial until after the November elections, contending that ample time should be given to prepare for the hearing of the charges and that many Senators are needed at home to look after their political fences. Others, however, leading Democrats among the number, urge that impeachment proceedings are of such high privilege that they should be taken up as soon as the House shall prefer the charges, irrespective of the personal comfort and convenience of Senators. An impeachment trial in summer will have few attractions for the Senators or the country.

A nation-wide movement to petition President Taft to withdraw as the Republican Presidential candidate is said to have been started, with the purpose, if it is successful of inducing Colonel Roosevelt also to withdraw, thus permitting the nomination of a compromise candidate agreeable to both factions of the party. The plan is backed, it is said, by a large number of office holders, who feel that they face defeat in November unless the breach can be healed. The office holders are naturally concerned about their jobs but the scheme will not succeed. President Taft is not likely to withdraw, and no one really expects Colonel Roosevelt to yield when he has made up his mind.

Colonel Roosevelt has high hopes of the success of his party in the Presidential election and one of his plans is to capture local and state tickets from both the Republicans and the Democrats. It is proposed to make the movement within the party organizations where the Roosevelt sentiment is strong enough to render such an attempt feasible. This is a fine plan on paper, but can it be worked out in fact? It is extremely doubtful if the regular Republicans will allow themselves to be caught in such a trap, but it will undoubtedly be worked for all it is worth by the Progressives.

It may seem hot in Newport today, but the heat is not to be compared with that in other cities. Monday when the highest temperature here was 75 degrees, Boston reported 93, Philadelphia 103 and New York 96, and in many places there were several deaths and prostrations from the heat. This noon in Newport the temperature was only seven degrees higher than yesterday. Surely Newport is a pleasant place in which to live.

Two years is a long time for a trial, but the Italian government had an exceedingly difficult task on its hands when it started to break up the Camorrists.

Phew!

SIZING UP THE THIRD TERM PARTY.

[New York Tribune.]

Senator Cummins's refusal to quit the Republican party for a third party is based on practical reasons which must appeal to most dissatisfied Republicans in the states in which the third term party was expected to receive its chief support. In effect the Iowa Senator's argument is: "Why go to the labor and expense of creating a new national organization which at most will last through a single national campaign?" The insurgent Republicans in the states which sent Roosevelt delegates to the Chicago convention have everything to lose and nothing to gain by surrendering the control of their local Republican organizations, which they have now secured. For the sake of revenging themselves in a single election for what they vaguely condemn as a misuse of the authority vested in a defunct national committee they would throw away the power which they have acquired through persistent effort and which they might be able to employ in remodelling party machinery according to their own views.

Senator Cummins is entirely right in not wishing to wreck the Republican party (certainly the most efficient agency of the government at the service of the country for the last half century) merely for the sake of showing resentment over the procedure of a national convention. If there were to be an election this fall and no other election to follow within 10 or 20 years a third party movement might attract the Western insurgents. But state and local officers and members of Congress are to be chosen in 1914 and regularly at two-year intervals thereafter and another President is to be named in 1916. Why, then, not hold fast to what has been secured and plan for a future control of the Republican party, instead of forsaking it and organizing a far weaker party to do a temporary work of destruction and revenge?

NO GROUND FOR SEX ANTAGONISM.

[London Times.]

There are several millions of homes in this country, rich, well-off, and poor, in which all these terrible matters of sex antagonism are dealt with day by day and year after year in such fashion that neither man nor woman is aware that they exist. We really must get back to sanity in our general conceptions of sex relationship before we can even measure, much less deal with whatever is wrong and remediable in our social system. The sexes in the main get on admirably together, as nature intended they should. Men and women in the mass do not care a fig for the physiology that bulks so largely in some controversial writings and speeches. They know that speculations of that kind are just good enough to be an ingredient in a novel, but that all that matters in real life is how one concrete human being can live on cordial and affectionate terms with another. That is everybody's own personal problem, and it has to be solved by some old-fashioned virtues that happily still flourish among us, not by any abstract studies of sex.

TEACHERS AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

The English suffragists appear to have felt no doubt that they could induce the National Union of Teachers, at its last conference, to declare in favor of suffrage, and they fully realized what an accession of strength to their cause such a declaration would be. Accordingly, they introduced into the conference a resolution expressing sympathy with women "who desire to possess and exercise the Parliamentary franchise, but because they are women, and for that reason alone, are by law debarred from it." But the suffragists miscalculated their strength. After a spirited debate, the resolution was voted down by a majority of nearly 14,000,—the vote being: For, 22,284; against 36,225; majority against, 13,941.

ALASKA'S HEAVIEST EARTHQUAKE.

The most violent earthquake ever known in Alaska took place Saturday night, the earth rocking continuously for 40 seconds. Less violent shocks occurred throughout the night. Louis Anderson, foreman of a mine on Dome Creek, was suffocated beneath a huge slab of earth, loosened by the quake.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Nomination Papers for Roosevelt Progressive Party to be Circulated.

State Delegation to Prohibition Convention Split—Crops Suffering from Drought.

Plans for the creation of the Roosevelt Progressive party in Rhode Island are now under way and it is expected that nomination papers with Colonel Roosevelt at the head will be circulated about the state within a short time according to Henry J. Doughty, who has signed the call in behalf of Rhode Island for a national convention, to be held in Chicago, August 5. Mr. Doughty, a retired rubber manufacturer, who lives in Edgewood, asserts that he always has been a Republican and always expects to be. He is a warm admirer of Theodore Roosevelt. "If Taft had been legally nominated," said Mr. Doughty, "I would have supported him, but I would have hated to. Of course, had the convention been guided by the delegates elected by the people Roosevelt would not be in the field, as he would not have bolted the convention. The national committee turned down many delegates elected by the people at the direct primaries and substituted men of their choice and these men favored Taft, and this is the sole cause why Colonel Roosevelt is in the field."

The Rhode Island delegation to the national convention of the Prohibition party left Providence Monday evening for Atlantic City, divided into two factions, the "Progressives" and the "Standpatters." The delegation had reservations on the Colonial Line steamer for New York, there being 18 persons in the party. At New York they will join the delegations from the other New England states. Louis E. Remington of Providence leads the "progressives," and Bernon F. Helme of Kingston is the leader of the "standpatters." The delegates and alternates elected at the state convention May 25, areas follows: Delegates—Louis E. Remington, Wilbur E. Smith, Willis H. White, Clark S. Pullen, Frederic T. Jencks, Clarence Cleasby, Duncan McPherson and William G. Lawton, all of Providence; Bernon E. Helme of Kingston. Alternates—Samuel B. Prentice, George W. Jeffrey, George S. McKay, William W. Estes, George E. Macbeth, Edwin A. Corbett, all of Providence; William F. Brightman of Newport, Cyrus A. Aldrich of East Providence.

Inquiries throughout the state show that the drought which has prevailed for nearly six weeks, with hardly a break, has already ruined some crops and badly damaged others. Only a slow, persistent rain, and that soon, will enable them, the farmers say, to realize even a small part of their season's harvest. Rain must come in sufficient quantities to soak the ground to a depth of six inches or more they explain, to be of real benefit. With short crops or none at all, there must be a corresponding rise in the price of the vegetables affected, according to the big market gardeners of the state. According to the Weather Bureau's statement there has been no rain of moment in this state since June 16 and 17. On the former day .15 of an inch fell and on the latter there was .17 of an inch precipitation. June 26, .02 inch rain was registered and on the twenty-ninth there was what the Weather Bureau characterizes as a "trace," a quantity of rain perceptible to the expert eye, but not measurable by any known instruments. In reality, therefore, there has been but .34 of an inch of rain since the middle of last month and there is no present relief in sight, according to the forecasters, as they predict continued fair and warm weather as far ahead as they can determine.

Although individual notices had been sent to the employes of the Rhode Island Perking Horse Shoe Company, Valley Falls, to appear for work Monday, there was a failure to obey the summons. The mill shut down a week ago Saturday and it was understood at the time that the suspension of operations was the customary stop in July and August. It appears, however, that some difficulty exists between the management and the employes on account of the conduct of the works, and the matter has been taken up by the local lodge of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, with which the greater part of the help are affiliated. At the time the works were closed a schedule of arrangements had been prepared and submitted to the management by a committee from the iron workers. The management did not sanction the proposals made, and the matter is still in abeyance. Monday a committee waited on the management, and said President Williams of the National Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers would be at the plant, when it was expected that an adjustment of the trouble might be reached.

Rev. John E. Morton, for nine years pastor at the Swedish Lutheran Church Gloria Dei, in Providence, preached his farewell sermon Sunday and exchanged parting words with the members of the big congregation attending the service. The farewell scenes were affecting, men and women breaking down when they came to the final realization that Rev. Mr. Morton would be their leader no longer. The members of the church and their friends, to a number taxing the accommodations, pressed around the clergyman as the service ended, to shake hands and to bid him godspeed. Rev. Mr. Morton sails from Boston on Cunard Line steamship Franconia for Liverpool, will spend a few days in London and then go to Sweden. He will rest during July and August, but in September will assume charge of the big Swedish Lutheran Church at Gefle, Sweden.

Information made public by Postmaster General Hitchcock shows that postal saving depositors in Rhode Island have made application for $660 of the third issue of postal savings bonds, to be distributed July 1. Application for this amount has been made by three depositors, with requests for three coupon bonds of the $20 denomination and six of the $100. Of this amount Providence applied for $500 and Peace Dale for $60. The amount on deposit in these places May 31 was as follows: Providence, $46,556; Peace Dale, $2,135. This is the third bond issue since the installation of the postal savings system in this country. The first issue was July 1, 1911, and the second January 1 of this year. Compared with the applications in Rhode Island January 1, the date of the last conversion, the number shows a decrease. For the previous bond issue applications were received from nine depositors for $1,340 of the bonds, of which amount $80 were in the registered form.

Clement A. Griscom's attractive summer home on Lighthouse point, at Watch Hill, was soaked from top to bottom by firemen Monday in an effort to extinguish a fire starting from a defective flue near the roof. The damage to the building and costly contents will amount to many thousands of dollars, although the actual burning was confined to the roof. The entire summer colony turned out to aid in removing things from the house and in extinguishing the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Griscom moved into a cottage near by which had just been made ready for the arrival of their son, Lloyd S. Griscom, ex-minister to Italy.

Rev. George S. Wheeler, for several years pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem at Bridgewater, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the New Jerusalem Church in Providence, and expects to begin his duties about the first of September. Rev. Mr. Wheeler returns to the New Church in Providence for the second time, having gone to Bridgewater from Providence for the second time. He had also received a call to the pastorate of a church in Chicago, Ill., but decided in favor of Providence.

FOR THE SAKE OF HER SON.

Mrs. Kendrick of Augusta, Ga., Presents Painting to Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

A large oil painting, representing a life saving crew going to the aid of a ship in distress, has been given to the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association by Mrs. S. A. Kendrick of Augusta, Ga., and hangs on the wall in the main lobby. The picture was painted by Mrs. Kendrick, who sent a letter accompanying the gift, saying she desired to give this small token to the Association because she felt it had done much for her own son. Her son is Yeoman P. M. Kendrick of the Virginia, about 19 years old, who during his stay in Newport has been a willing worker in all the activities of the Association. Not long ago Mrs. Kendrick painted a series of pictures for some of the municipal buildings in Augusta.

HOTTEST DAY THUS FAR.

Not so Bad as Last Year and a Cool Breeze Brings Drop in Temperature.

This has been the hottest day thus far this year, but it does not quite equal the record of last year, made July 11. This had been hot on the tenth, 84 at noon, and it kept it up all night, being 70 at midnight, 77 at 7 and 76 at 8 a. m. on the eleventh. It ran up to 86 at noon and held there until 2:30. The conditions Monday night and this morning were somewhat similar.

Last evening at 7 it felt cool, but the thermometer at The News office registered 72. This morning there was no let-up; 77 at 8 a. m., without a breath of wind, made it feel like summer. The mercury rose until at 11 o'clock it stood at 84½. Then a cooling southwest wind set in and the mercury began to drop to 81 at noon and back to 83 at 1 p. m. The wind continued cool and it dropped to 76 at 2:30.

There were some records made elsewhere. At Downing's drug store at 10, under the awning, the thermometer stood at 94; it was at 89 at 2:30. There were similar drops all over town, the breeze doing great work in reducing the temperature.

FOR CITY SERGEANT WESTCOTT'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late City Sergeant William H. Westcott will be of a quiet nature. The service at the house will be followed by a public service at Emmanuel Church a half-hour later. Mayor Boyle and Chairman Clark Burdick have requested the members of the Board of Aldermen and Representative Council and city officers to meet at the City Hall to go together to the church. The members of Redwood Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and of St. John's Lodge of Masons have been requested to attend, but it will not be a society funeral. The bearers will be two members each from Redwood Lodge and St. John's Lodge, two personal friends and two representatives from the City Hall. The interment will be in the Island cemetery.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Miss Gwendolyn Williams has gone to Middletown to visit Miss Anna May Stanton.

—Downie & Wheeler's Circus will show on the Middleton avenue lot two weeks from Saturday, coming here from Taunton.

—Mrs. John D. Moran, with her son, of New York, is here to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. P. J. Sullivan, on Pilley avenue.

—Chase is showing an enlargement of a photograph of battleship New Hampshire which is of sufficient size to present in detail the strange results of the recent collision.

—A number of the members of the Current Topics Club went to Bristol Ferry today, to attend the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at the Social Studio.

—The Baptist Temple Union of Fall River will make its thirty-eighth annual excursion to Newport Wednesday, coming on the Warwick. They plan to have a program of sports at the beach.

—Wednesday is the regular day for the public drill at the Training Station and each week the crowd attending appears to be growing in number. The exhibition drill by the ship's guard is making a decided hit with the visitors.

—Deacon William B. Franklin extended to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. McKeever, by the Second Baptist Church Sunday, the right hand of fellowship, thus receiving them into the membership of the church.

—Colonel Coffin of the Narragansett Artillery district is away on a two months' vacation and will go to Wisconsin to consult Dr. Mayo, one of the most celebrated physicians and surgeons in the world.

—DeBlois & Eldridge have rented for Caleau Pinard his cottage No. 4, Narragansett avenue, to Richard Stevens of "Castle Point," Hoboken, for the season. Miss Elsie Stevens not coming out this season, they are taking a small cottage.

—Barge Willard D. Brinner is in with a cargo of crushed stone for J. J. Dugan. Barges Susquehanna and Bristol are in with hard coal for D. J. Sullivan & Co. The Susquehanna is discharging and the other is waiting to discharge.

—It has been a long while since the ship carpenters at the repair shops have had such a continuously busy season as this year and they are still hard at it, while the painters are working only every other week in shifts. One of the pressures which the carpenters are feeling is that of construction of life rafts, many of which are being built to add to the equipment of the steamers of the company.

—The state grand officers of the Women's Relief Corps are here today on their annual visit to Lawton-Warren Women's Relief Corps. They arrived from Providence about 2 and luncheon was served at Grand Army hall. Then the visitors were taken to the beach and shown about other places, including the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. Supper will be served at the hall and the visitors will return about 9.

BRITISH SQUADRON UNDER INSPECTION.

Strongest Fleet Ever Assembled Viewed at Spithead.

Vessels Proceed to the North Sea for Summer Manoeuvres.

LONDON, July 9.—The active British fleet in English waters and the vessels from the Mediterranean station, consisting of some 315 ships of all classes, gathered at Spithead today for inspection by the members of the Houses of Lords and Commons. The inspection opened with a display of aeroplanes and hydroplanes now being used for the first time in British naval manoeuvres. The great fleet later proceeded to sea for the summer manoeuvres.

This is one of the strongest fleets, if not the strongest, that has ever assembled and still many effective vessels remain in the naval ports, including those of the eighth battle squadron, and the seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh cruiser squadrons.

The invitation to the Lords and Commoners is a new way First Lord of the Admiralty, Winston Churchill has of impressing the men, who have to vote the money, with the needs of a great navy. The legislators were taken on steamers which cruised through the lines of ships.

The manoeuvres are to be held in the North Sea, and although the plans of the admiralty have been kept secret, enough has leaked out to indicate that the problem set for elucidation is concerned with the frustration of an attempted raid by a force of troops under naval convoy.

The ships are to be divided into two fleets, red and blue, the latter, constituting the defending force under Prince Louis of Battenberg and the former attacking force of Sir George Callahan. Twenty-one admirals will have their flags flying in addition to two commodores.

MANY MINERS KILLED.

Two Explosions Occur at the Cadely Colliery.

CONISBROUGH, Yorkshire, England, July 9.—Thirty miners were killed and two injured by a coal damp explosion which occurred in the Cadely colliery here, early this morning.

King George, who is making a tour in the neighborhood, yesterday, paid a visit to an adjoining coal pit.

A second explosion occurred in the Cadeby colliery this afternoon and was followed by a fall of the roof in some of the galleries, which cut off the rescue brigade of about 30 men who were in mine at the time. The government mine inspector and the manager of the pit are known to have been killed by the second explosion.

ALL THE ACCUSED APPEAL.

Physicians Say Di Marinas Will Soon be Out of Danger.

VITERBO, Italy, July 9.—All the accused in the Camorra trial who were yesterday sentenced to long terms of imprisonment and police surveillance appealed today through their lawyers to the Court of Cassation.

The clerk of the court went to jail this morning and read the sentence of the court to Di Marinas, who was not present yesterday, when the judgment was read, owing to his attempt while in the prisoners' iron cage to cut his throat with a piece of glass. Di Marinas assumed an attitude of disdain. His hands were tied to prevent him from re-opening the wound. The prison doctor declares that he will be out of danger in a few days. His wife is not allowed to see him and she lies at the door of the prison hospital, lamenting and groaning.

CONTESTS WILL DEVELOP.

Plans Completed for Prohibition National Convention at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 9.—Plans were completed today for the Prohibition national convention, which begins here tomorrow. Every train brought scores of delegates from all parts of the country. After an exciting skirmish last night in the national committee of the party, in which an insurgent movement attempted to overthrow the present party organization, headed by Charles R. Jones of Chicago, the rival factions today participated in a love feast. Though the hatchet appeared to be buried, there was a persistent report that the convention will develop contests in the resolutions committee over various planks in the platform, including recall of judges, equal suffrage and a proposal to change the party name.

Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., will be temporary chairman of the convention. He declared that the time never was more propitious than now for a real Progressive party such as this when the old political parties were split by dissension. He will proclaim the aspirations of the Prohibition party in his address to the convention tomorrow. C. A. Fenton of Logansport, Ind., has been named secretary of the convention; L. L. Evanson of Masonville, N. J., sergeant-at-arms, and Axel Gustafson of Chicago, doorkeeper.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

This will pass as the hottest day of the season, and but for the stiff breeze it would be one of the hottest ever experienced on the island. Under the lee of the hotels along the water front at noon the thermometer stood at 90. In the cottage section, however, the westerly wind was felt, and unless one was in the sun it was easy enough to keep cool.

Miss Davis, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. C. H. Davis, entertained a small party at her summer home on the Dumplings this afternoon.

Miss Marguerite Caperton, daughter of Commander Caperton of the Naval Training Station, is guest of Miss Davis on Walcott avenue.

The new casino seems to be just what was needed and bids fair to become popular. Tea is served daily during the afternoon and the members are availing themselves of these occasions for social gatherings.

ON THE POLICE LIST.

Sailor, Civilian Suit and Money Missing—Barber With Two Knives Looking for Another Man.

Another tale of woe comes from the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. R. J. Tyler of the North Carolina, who is here on furlough, took a room there Sunday night and invited J. J. Werrick of the Massachusetts to share it with him. Tyler wore civilian clothes and had $55 in money, which he placed under his pillow when he went to bed. Werrick wore a sailor suit. When Tyler woke up Sunday morning there was a sailor suit but no civilian suit, and also a pillow but no $55. The name of J. J. Werrick appears among the list of stragglers from the Massachusetts this morning. Of course no one knows just who took the money, but it is gone, so is the civilian suit.

Oscar Martinez, a Cubian barber, was taken in this morning by Officer Casey in the interest of peace and quiet and to prevent trouble. He had two sharp-pointed knives, of equal length, each wrapped separately in a piece of paper, when the officer took him. He said he was looking for one Townsend, who had told stories about his wife. Possibly he contemplated a duel, for the knives seemed to be as nearly alike as possible. He said he was going to give Townsend a chance to fight it out if he was a man. It seemed to Officer Casey that there was likely to be trouble, so he gathered in the barber, who was not at all disorderly, and took him to the station. Possibly further developments may be expected.

The hot weather has helped the news value of the police station, and this morning there was something on the blotter. An insane man was committed to the asylum, after an examination by two doctors. A woman for profane swearing paid $7.60. A girl, 17 years of age, was placed on probation. There were two men in for drunkenness; one was fined and the other sent to jail, but both landed in jail.

BAUM-HERZ.

A quiet wedding took place Monday evening at the residence of Mr. Lazar Herz on Brinley street, the bride being Miss Margaret Herz, his daughter, and the groom Mr. Solomon Baum of Pemberton, Ore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Bloch, cantor of the Jewish Synagogue, and was witnessed by a small company of relatives and intimate friends. A wedding supper was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Baum left on the Priscilla on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a blue traveling suit. They will make their home at Narragansett Pier, where Mr. Baum is in business.

INVESTIGATING A NAVAL HOSPITAL DEATH.

A naval court of inquiry, consisting of Surgeon R. A. Buchman of the naval hospital and Lieutenants H. K. Gage and C. E. Wood of the Naval Training Station, is investigating the cause of the death of First Class Fireman J. J. McCabe, who died at the naval hospital July 6. He was at the hospital for a minor operation and it is said secured a bottle of alcohol, drinking the contents, which caused his death. The court is endeavoring to ascertain how the patient secured the alcohol and if any one of the hospital staff is responsible.

WORK AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

The organ for the new St. Joseph's church has arrived and the many cases containing it have been deposited in the building. Men to set it up will come in a few days and the organ loft is being completed, preparatory to their arrival. Another invoice of stained glass windows for the church are being put in, but the main windows may be delayed for some time, as there is a report that there is some difficulty with the customs service over them. The staging on the interior of the church is now nearly down and it is promised hat by Saturday it will all be cleared away and the interior will be ready for the flooring.

The Scandinavian Society of Three Stars at its semi-annual meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing six months:

President—Charles O. Berghman.
Vice President—Fritz Schelman.
Secretary—Adolph Johnson.
Recording Secretary—Frank Lindh.
Treasurer—Andrew Anthony.

Friday evening several new members will be admitted and there will be a banquet.

There was also an initiation of new members Monday evening by Lodge No. 145, Danish Brotherhood, and the installation of officers.

THE PASSING OF AN OLD STORE.

The announcement by the William Leys Dry Goods Company that it will close its doors for a few days marks the complete passing of the last lingering vestige of the ancient William Sherman store. The Century Store will move to the new structure in the rear, and while the stock is going on the shelves mechanics will be engaged in tearing away through the old building, to provide for the construction of an arcade while the old building is being completely cleared off and a new front structure is being erected.

COWS AGAIN IN THE CORN PATCH.

The cows have again invaded the corn patch of Carl Jurgens, out on the Boulevard, and Mr. Jurgens reported that they had done about $50 worth of damage. He sent a man in with them to the pound and on the way Richard Peckham claimed the cows. When they were turned over to him he cut the ropes and led the cows off. There may be some legal proceedings in consequence.

SHIPS PUT OUT TO SEA.

Vessels of the Atlantic Fleet Go Outside for Delayed Practice and Manoeuvres.

The delayed practice for the Atlantic fleet began today, when it was decided that the fog had cleared sufficiently to permit the ships to put to sea, though there is little feeling of assurance that they will have the clear weather they require for carrying out a part of their program. At 9 o'clock this morning the various vessels left their anchorages, and outside they expected to meet other vessels of the fleet, when the work of the week will be carried out so far as possible.

BELOW ZERO THIS SUMMER.

Real economy demands that some spot in your house be cold enough to preserve fruit, vegetables, butter, eggs, milk, etc., free from germs as long as you want to keep them. A good refrigerator affords the most convenient plan for storing food of this sort.

You find a vast difference in refrigerators. In some the consumption of ice is enormous. You pay for them over and over again in the "fuel" you put into them.

Others like the Baldwin have a circulation of cold, dry air that keeps all kinds of food in perfect condition.

The right kind will cost no more.

TO INSURE POLICEMEN.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Contracts were signed here within a few days under which all the members of the New York police department will have their lives insured. The insurance will be effected through several blanket policies, one for each of the divisions of the department and the contract in each case will be between that particular division and the life insurance company. Grouping the several contracts together, it is said to be the largest life insurance deal ever made.

The New York police department has, in round numbers, some 10,000 members. The contracts now proposed will insure these for between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000, with annual premiums of something like $180,000. The cost to the individual policeman, who will pay a flat rate without regard to age, will be approximately $15 per $1,000.

The mortality figures for the department show that in the past four years there has been an average of 72 deaths annually or a rate of three fourths of one per cent. No medical examination is required under the proposed plan, and the policy will be payable immediately upon the death of the insured.

CANADIAN PUBLIC ANXIOUS.

Negotiations Regarding the Proposed Navy Awaited With Interest.

OTTAWA, July 9.—The Canadian public is awaiting with the keenest interest the negotiations now in progress in London between Premier Borden and the British admiralty regarding the proposed Canadian navy. The Borden government had disavowed the Laurier policy and will endeavor to substitute something it considers better. It is reported here that in place of contributing two Dreadnoughts to the British navy or making a cash contribution, the government will undertake to maintain two fleet units, or parts thereof, one on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific coast. Canadian recruits would man them and the upkeep of the ships would be paid for out of the Canadian exchequer.

In fact, it is stated by one who should know the situation that there are but two houses in the Bellevue Avenue district which have not already been taken and there are several applicants waiting for a decision on them.

CONVENTIONS AND CONGRESS.

A Month Has Been Taken Out of the Business of the Session.

Bryan Had the Crowd With Him at Baltimore and Sanction of the "People Back Home."

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, July 8.—For several days the national capital has seen the return of the delegates from Baltimore and they have been talking about the recent convention. In fact, it has been the sole topic of conversation aside from the speculation as to how long the present session of Congress will last. A month has been taken out of the business of the session by the conventions, and now it is expected that Congressmen will get down to work in earnest if they can get over discussing the recent national gatherings.

The Baltimore convention will become historic. It may be the last of its kind ever held. It is the first time in more than 60 years that a man receiving a majority of votes at any time has not been nominated. It is the first time in years that a man came into the convention with far less than one third of the votes and rose steadily until he won the nomination, particularly, when there was a clear majority against him. The Wilson men won by sheer persistence—by the fact that all the Wilson men were for Wilson and many of the supporters of the other candidates were for him.

Thomas Riley Marshall, Woodrow Wilson's running mate on the Democratic national ticket, has for years been known by the natives of his state, Indiana, as "the champeen Fourth of July and Decoration day orator of all Hoosierdom." He has a tremendous personal popularity, is honest, sincere and fearless.

Tom Marshall is a bantam, five feet eight inches high, weighing less than 150 pounds. His hair is heavy, and he can do nothing whatever with it except to get it standing straight up in the air as he runs his hands into it during a heated political speech. The governorship of Indiana was his first political office.

"Too many cooks spoil the broth" is an old adage. Too many campaign managers often spoil a campaign for a candidate. Speaker Clark had so many friends and there were so many people who were anxious to see him President that they came to him by scores, and as they were prominent in politics, they naturally were recognized as leaders and soon became known as managers.

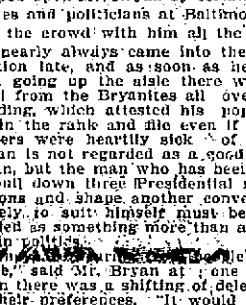

In spite of all the curses and abuse heaped upon Mr. Bryan by certain delegates and politicians at Baltimore he had the crowd with him all the time. He nearly always came into the convention late, and as soon as he was seen going up the aisle there was a howl from the Bryanites all over the building, which attested his popularity in the rank and file even if the leaders were heartily sick of him. Bryan is not regarded as a good politician, but the man who has been able to pull down three Presidential nominations and shape another convention largely to suit himself must be regarded as something more than a novice in politics.

"[illegible] back home," said Mr. Bryan at one stage when there was a shifting of delegates in their preferences. "It would save me a lot of trouble," he continued, "if I could have a big electric sign up there where all the delegates could see it, and when they began going wrong I could flash the words, 'Remember, you are going back home,' and that would bring them around. They are afraid of the people back home." Thousands upon thousands of telegrams were poured in upon delegates telling them to support Mr. Bryan and follow his leadership.

The man with a voice can get a job at a Democratic convention. The Democrats believe in free speech, in considerable noise, and after they have been crowded in uncomfortable seats in hot weather for a week or 10 days they make a great deal of confusion. What is then needed is the man with a voice which can be heard everywhere above the din and talking. At least a score of good voices were worn out during the convention. A man with a voice which could be heard everywhere would last a few hours, and then another would be brought forward.

The Western men did not like the paper money they received in change in Baltimore. "Five me something that I can feel is money," they would tell the clerks and barkeeps, but they could not get anything but the grimy, soiled paper bills, which ought to be retired. "We are used to gold and silver in the West," said one of them, "and we can't get the idea that this is real money."

COMES TO NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Raphael's painting, "The Madonna of St. Anthony of Padua," which J. P. Morgan purchased in Paris 10 years ago for $500,000, has just been transferred from the National Gallery, London, to the Metropolitan Museum of Art here. The picture was originally painted for the nuns of St. Anthony of Padua, who had a convent at Perugia. In 1667 they obtained permission to sell it for about $2,000. The community needed money and believed the picture to be of small value.

SAVE THE HAIR

Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It

No woman should have poor, thin, scraggy hair, and no man need become bald. Poor hair and final baldness are due to the dandruff germ.

Newbro's Herpicide will destroy this little germ and stop the hair from falling. Further evidence of this is found in a letter from Mrs. F. Neilsen, of Tomah, Wis. She says: "I fought the worst kind of dandruff for nine years. I have been using Herpicide now one week, and my scalp is healthy, the dandruff has gone and the itching has stopped. It is the best remedy for scalp diseases I ever saw, and I have seen many."

Don't subject yourself to disappointment and expense by accepting something claimed to be "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. These off brands may possibly be good, but why take chances? The genuine and original dandruff germ destroyer can always be obtained. If your own druggist has nothing but "just as good" articles, go John M. Callahan who will furnish you with Newbro's Herpicide and guarantees one dollar size bottles. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

DIPHTHERIA ON THE ELENA.

Schooner Yacht of Eastern Club Sent to Portland in Tow of Tug.

BILLINGS COVE, Maine, July 9.—The success of the cruise of the Eastern Yacht Club was somewhat marred today by the enforced retirement of schooner Elena. Soon after colors today Captain Dennis reported three cases of diphtheria on board, and it was decided to send the yacht immediately to Portland in tow of the committee tug. While the Elena was in Boothbay Harbor one of the crew was sent ashore with the disease and last night three others were found to be affected. Fortunately the fleet surgeon, Dr. Lincoln Davis of Boston, was on one of the yachts and immediately reported on the Elena to take charge of the sick men.

The yacht left at 9 o'clock in tow of tug Orion and was expected to reach Portland by sunset. The remainder of the fleet will continue on to Bar Harbor, as planned, leaving the Irolita and Enchantress to fight it out in the first schooner division. Dr. Davis said that the cases are not serious.

There was great regret expressed among the rest of the fleet over the departure of the Elena. It is expected that the yacht will be quarantined in Portland.

There was no scheduled race, but several of the smaller yachts indulged in short brushes as the fleet journeyed down Eggemoggin Reach, across Jericho bay and into Burnt Coat harbor, on the southern side of Swan Island. All hands took the day easily, some of the yachts being towed so that the crews might have plenty of rest in anticipation of the two final race days. The high hills of Mount Desert were in sight most of the day, but the fleet will not slip beneath their long shadows until tomorrow, when it is hoped Northeast Harbor will be reached.

The cruising sections of the fleet were in supreme command today and many of the yachts stopped in at many coves and harbors down the Reach to call on friends who make this part of the world their summer habitation. Swan Island was reached by the first of the yachts by noon and for several hours later tall schooners, steam yachts and launches came slipping round the square white lighthouse to an anchorage in one of the quaintest and most attractive harbors on the Maine coast.

It was planned to hold the gig and dinghy races for members, guests and crews during the afternoon.

RENE BEDEL KILLED.

Monoplane Strikes Telegraph Wires and Capsizes in France.

CAHOLNS SUR MARNE, France, July 9.—Rene Bedel, one of the most experienced airmen and the holder of the Pommry cup for cross-country flying, met his death this morning before the eyes of some thousands of French troops, wh were assembled on the reviewing grounds, at Mourmelon-Le-Grand, near here.

Bedel, who had come in his monoplane from Villa Coublay, near Paris, to participate in the manoeuvres, arrived above the camp after a fine flight. He was about to descend when his monoplane struck the telegraph wires, which the prevailing haze evidently prevented him from seeing. His machine capsized and Bedel was thrown to the ground. It is believed that he was not killed by the fall, but the motor of his aeroplane fell on his body and he was crushed almost beyond recognition.

NOT TO TAKE PART IN CAMPAIGN

Taggart of Indiana Resigns from Democratic National Committee.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Thomas Taggart of Indiana has resigned his membership of the Democratic national committee after 12 years of service. Taggart arrived here yesterday and confirmed a report from Indianapolis that he would take no official part in the Presidential campaign this year. The resignation will take effect when the committee meets in Chicago next Sunday.

"If the party were in trouble, if it needed me, no amount of personal sacrifice would deter me from continuing in my present place," said Mr. Taggart yesterday, "but the party is out of trouble and facing the brightest prospect I have ever known it to face in a campaign year".

He added that he regarded Wilson and Marshall "as good as elected". Senator Kern of Indiana, Vice Presidential candidate in 1908, and W. H. O'Brien, Indiana state auditor, have been mentioned as probable successors to Mr. Taggart.

GAG RULE RE-ADOPTED.

Nearly Half of Monday's Work Declared Illegal by Clark.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—When the House today attempted to resume consideration of the Clayton contempt bill it found itself in a parliamentary snarl. The situation arose because Speaker Clark had announced yesterday that a quorum was present and had voted to adopt the "Gag" rule, making consideration of the measure possible. The tally clerk had erred in totalling his figures, however, and a quorum had not been present, thus vitiating the action of the House.

Minority Leader Mann and former Speaker Cannon led in the renewal of the fight against the gag rule today. After a long skirmish the Speaker finally declared nearly half of yesterday's work illegal and vacated it. The House then re-adopted the rule.

HUERTA AGREES TO REQUEST.

Offer to Surrender With 500 Men, if Given Amnesty, Sent to Federal.

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, July 9.—Feliciano Dominguez, who bore the rank of lieutenant colonel among Orozco's forces, has sent from Santa Isabell to General Huerta, commander of the federal forces, an offer to surrender with 500 men, if given amnesty. General Huerta has agreed to the request. The state legislature, represented by deputies who remained loyal to the government, convened today for the purpose of re-instating Abraham Gonzales in the governorship.

MORE NEGOTIATIONS UNLIKELY.

Predicted from Finance Minister's Attitude as to China's Loan.

PEKIN, July 9.—Finance Minister Hsiung Hsi-Liang's attitude in regard to the six powers' loan of $300,000,000 to China, which resulted in a deadlock being reached at a conference held yesterday between the finance minister and the representative of the foreign bank groups, leaves by only the barest margin the possibility that future negotiations will be conducted.

RUN AWAY WITH TWO FIRST PLACES.

only 20 feet behind the American, with the Englishman another 20 yards behind and the Australian 100 yards further back. The Swede, K. Lundstrom, gave up a quarter of a mile from the end.

The result of the second heat virtually duplicated that of the first. The representatives of the United States made the pace for two thirds of the race, the two English runners, E. W. Hutson and C. H. Ruffell, following close on the heels of Louis Scott, South Paterson Young Men's Christian Association and Edward G. Fitzgerald, New York Athletic Club. Joseph Keeper, the Canadian, and the two Swedes, B. Modig and M. Persson, were only a short distance away.

The real fight came early in the third mile, when Ruffell took the lead for a few yards, but then dropped by the way. Fitzgerald came up to the front, but soon fell back and Scott reached the tape with an easy lead of four yards from Keeper, who was two feet ahead of Hutson. Persson finished a lap behind, but Modig withdrew during the first mile.

The United States showed very poorly in the third heat, Garnet M. Wickoff, University of Ohio, going lame and withdrawing before he had covered two thirds of the distance. The Englishman, E. Glover, and C. H. A. Porter, led most of the way, keeping together all the time. The Swede, M. Karlsson, challenged them in the last 1,000 yards. Coming to the front with a rush, he then steadily gained and finished 200 yards ahead of Glover, while Porter was another 100 yards behind. The Swedish victory was greatly applauded.

Yesterday's decision disqualifying the United States relay team in the 400-metres race caused considerable grumbling. Some of the American officials and spectators assert that both the Swedish and British runners in that race committed the same foul, but the Americans alone were selected for punishment.

The officials of the British team predict that this meeting will cause a revolution in British athletic methods. British followers of the Olympic games declare that the team lacks discipline and that some of the men have broken their training, as they were unable to resist the attractions of Stockholm.

Rev. De Courcey Laffan, a former prominent athlete in England, thinks the English should send their trainers to the United States to study American methods.

LACK OF GENERAL SUPPORT.

No Agreement Reached by Progressives to Take Up Petition Plan.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Publicity given to the plans of Progressive Republican members of the House to circulate petitions calling upon President Taft to withdraw as head of the Republican national ticket had the effect today of retarding developments, if not actually circumventing the scheme.

Further inquiry today revealed that what was proclaimed yesterday as a general nation-wide movement to circulate petitions among voters had thus far been confined almost entirely to a number of well known progressives of the House. The reported support of conservatives, it was admitted today, probably will not be forthcoming.

No agreement was reached by the progressives to take up the petition plan and it was rumored that lack of general support was responsible for the delay. A draft of a petition to be signed by members of the House was shown yesterday to several representatives. They did not agree upon its terms and thus far none have signed it.

Anti-Taft members of the Senate, together with several from the House, have decided to draw up a statement criticising the nomination made at Chicago and setting forth their belief that President Taft was not legally nominated. This will be offered to all progressives for signature to be used as a campaign statement in the forthcoming struggle.

BOSTON'S HOTTEST DAY.

One Death and Ten Prostrations Reported up to Noon.

BOSTON, July 9.—One death and 10 heat prostrations had been reported in Boston up to noon today, the hottest day of the year. For seven consecutive days the mercury in the thermometer on the top of the federal building has hovered about the 90 mark and at noon the mercury registered at 97 degrees.

PROVIDENCE TEMPERATURE 95.

Hottest Day of the Year in This State Forces Many to Quit Work.

PROVIDENCE, July 9.—The hottest day of the year made life almost unbearable for thousands of people in this state today and forced many to leave their work and seek a cool spot. The mercury in the official weather bureau thermometer in this city reached 95, but down on the street the temperature hovered near the hundred mark. In Pawtuckt the heat forced the Lorraine mills, employing 1,200 operatives, to shut down for the afternoon and in Cumberland the Berkeley mills suspended at noon for the day, giving 500 an opportunity to seek shelter from the heat.

Noon—From an irregular or heavy opening today's stock market gradually recovered until its level at midday was up to or better than yesterday's final quotations. The trading was perfunctory, however, with no signs of public interest, while professional operators were inclined to await the publication of the copper producers' report and the government crop report, the latter of which will not issue until shortly before the market's close. Amalgamated Copper was again an element of weakness, but later regained its loss. Dealings in Steel were larger than the combined sales of the three other leaders. Bonds were steady. Money on call, firm, at 2⅞ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4¼ to 4½ per cent. Exchanges $361,333,650; balances $15,871,278.

HAMPTON STUDENTS' MUSIC.

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Newport is certainly indebted to Hampton Institute, in a few days hundreds of people here have been entertained, taught and delighted, all at one and the same time, by the fine delegation of sons of the black man and the red man, who show results of the Hampton sort of education which are enough to make any American community envious.

Sunday evening the delegation, including a few young women, visited the United Congregational Church, and a large congregation was present to greet the students, Rev. G. A. Hulbert, pastor of the church, conducted the service, which was largely given up to the visitors. He regretted that a collection was not to be taken, but promised to forward contributions. Principal H. B. Frissell was also in the pulpit, and spoke of the work the Institute is trying to do for the two races which have a peculiar claim on American people—the negro who came here by special invitation," and the red men whose treatment has been described by saying the English first "fell on their knees; then on the aborigines." The Zulu prince occupied the pulpit to tell his story, and so did an Indian lad, both doing finely.

The singing by the young men was something long to be remembered. There were about 25 of them. They lined up in front of the pulpit, and proved the excellent acoustic properties of the church. They are now refined and highly intelligent. The touch of unrestrained wildness which was a legitimate charm of the singing of the old slave days is gone, and it is perhaps not amiss to feel sorry for its passing. In its stead comes a finished musical product which can hold a place equal to the best to be heard—perhaps it is not too much to say—in any sort of music, in any part of the world. The quality of tone of these students is wonderfully fine. It seems to satisfy beyond all desire. Of course there is no accompaniment. The very best instrument of any sort could be of no assistance; it would mar the perfect effect of the voices.

The blending and the balance, too, were perfect, and some of the lovely effects were revelations in the realm of vocal music. Every voice was rich, full and sweet; the tones rang out clear as a bell, and all was full of life and intelligent purpose. Perhaps there was just a touch of the sort of tone produced by the concert band of a Sousa or a Creatore. At all events, it was a splendid type of music, perfectly given, and any musician who heard it will remember it with gratitude and gladness.

OFFICERS ALREADY AT GREBLE.

Annual Tour of Duty of the Rhode Island National Guard to Begin Next Sunday.

Next Sunday the Rhode Island National Guard will go into camp at Fort Greble for the annual tour of duty. As a preparation for this the officers of the First and Second districts, coast artillery corps, came down from Providence Monday on steamer Sagamore and went into camp at the post for preliminary instruction. Saturday they will return to their homes, to be ready to take command of their organizations Sunday morning.

The First division will arrive next Monday and the Second division will come the following week. All the work will be done at Fort Greble, where firing is possible and the mortars have been prepared for special work at high angles of fire. A few of the officers will be detailed for fire control and similar duty to Fort Adams, but generally the work of the annual encampment will be at Greble this year.

Apparently the discussion about gunfire at Forts Adams and Wetherill is responsible for the sending of the entire force to Greble. When it was planned to make the state troops a reserve force for the Narragansett Bay fortifications it was also determined that they should have a permanent place of duty, so that if they were called upon in case of need they would have acquaintance with the post and its equipment. Under the change which has now been enforced it is said that if the United States were to go to war many of the very persons who complain against the gunfire would be the first to demand protection of their property. Then would come a period of acquainting the men with the new locations and the work there, and until they had acquired this they would be an inefficient garrison.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BURLINGAME.

The funeral of Mrs. Fannie W., wife of Postmaster Robert S. Burlingame, took place this afternoon from her residence on Everett street, where a large number of her personal friends and business and fraternal associates of her husband gathered. A simple service was conducted by Rev. Joseph Cooper, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Herbert W. Smith singing a solo. The interment was in the Island cemetery the bearers being Messrs. William and Robert J. Carry, cousins of Mrs. Burlingame, and Joseph P. and Frank A. Burlingame, brothers of Mr. Burlingame. The letter carriers delayed their afternoon delivery that they might attend the funeral, and with as many of the postoffice employes as could be spared marched to the house from the postoffice in a body.

LONG DISTRICT COURT SESSION.

Judge Franklin had a long session before him when he opened the district court at 10 o'clock this morning. There were several civil cases down for trial which promised to take all the morning and part of the afternoon, chief among these being a hearing entitled Mirman vs. Reed, which had to do with the leasing of the Savoy restaurant on Thames street. Mr. Evangelecos, proprietor of the Perry lunch room, H. L. Dyer, Henry Reed and Jacob Mirman were the principal witnesses.

It is expected to try the embezzlement case against Colonel Reginald Norman's superintendent, John Rhinehart, this afternoon, and there were several witnesses in court waiting to be heard in this matter.

"MEN'S WORK FOR MEN."

Rev. Dr. Ninde the Speaker and Bradley Chapter Guests of the Wesley Brotherhood.

Not often is there a jollier set of men or a more sociable gathering than that Monday evening at the chapel of the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal Church. At its monthly meeting the Wesley Chapter of the Methodist Brotherhood entertained the members of the Bradley Chapter, of the First Church, and this furnished the opportunity for an exceedingly pleasant occasion. It had as the speaker Rev. Edward S. Ninde, D. D., pastor of the Mathewson Street Church in Providence, which assured the excellence of the feature of the evening, and in addition musical numbers and a collation which completed an enjoyable program. There were about 50 present, nearly evenly divided between the two Chapters.

The Sunday School room had been made unusually attractive by the liberal use of flags and banners, flowers and growing plants, with the supper tables spread on one side. Mr. H. A. Titus, president of the Wesley Chapter, was in charge and in opening extended a cordial welcome to the guests. Rev. W. H. Bath, pastor of the Thames Street Church, offered prayer and during the evening there were xylophone solos by Mr. W. E. Patrick, Jr., accompanied by Miss Alice L. Maitland, and vocal solos by Mrs. F. A. Manuel, with Miss Annie Northup as accompanist, and Mr. Vernon Tallman, with Miss Maitland at the piano.

Rev. Dr. Ninde's address was on "Men's Work for Men" and was a stimulating appeal for a religion which as presented by men shall be made attractive to other men, to draw them into the church. Originally, said the speaker, Christianity was a man's religion, but in recent years it has seemed to have lost much of its appeal to men and too often the congregations in Protestant churches are made up largely of women. Men, however, need religion, and the problem is how to make religion attractive to them and to win them to Christ and the church. Dr. Ninde believes in the gospel of the smiling face, in the gospel of the open hand, in personal work and visiting by men among men, and the employment of men as lay preachers and teachers. His address was full of illustrations drawn from his own experience as a pastor and from other sources and was so interesting and inspiring as to make a deep impression upon his hearers.

At the supper of chicken and potato salads, ice cream, cake and coffee, served by a number of the young women of the Thames Street Church, Rev. Joseph Cooper, of the First Church, offered the blessing, and at the close President Tilus called upon Rev. Mr. Bath, President Frederick Weir of the Bradley Chapter, Mr. E. C. Andrews and Rev. Mr. Cooper. Each responded in a brief address of congratulation for the hospitality of the evening and the value of the talk by Dr. Ninde. Then the gathering was dismissed after singing a verse of "Blest be the tie that binds."

SCARCITY OF LIFEBOATS.

New England Navigation Company Unable to Obtain at Once Number Contracted For.

The accidents which occurred to the Commonwealth, which rammed battleship New Hampshire, and to the Bunker Hill and the Massachusetts, which also were in collision in the fog last Sunday, have brought the question of adequate lifeboat equipment into the foreground again. Investigation established the fact that it is impossible for the New England Navigation Company and the Eastern Steamship Corporation to obtain lifeboats, which were ordered months ago, in the case of the latter company, which operates the Bunker Hill and the Massachusetts, vessels with a passenger capacity of 900 persons each, the government has allowed 30 days in which to come within the requirements of the steamboat laws. O. H. Taylor, general manager of the corporation, said:

"Nowhere in this country can we get lifeboats. The builders have more orders than they can fill in many months. As soon as we get the boats we will have a sufficient number to accomodate about 30 per cent of the total number of passengers which our vessels can carry. This is a number well within the law. If the collapsible boats and non-sinkable rafts are counted we will have plenty for everybody exclusive of life belts."

The New England Navigation Company also is unable to have lifeboats delivered which were contracted for immediately after the Titanic disaster. At the office of the general manager th statement was made that soon every vessel would have lifeboats for all.

THE POLO CHAMPIONSHIPS.

First Appearance of Several Clubs to Take Part in the Point Judith Tournaments.

An intimation of the teams and players to take part in the senior and junior championships of the Polo Association at the Point Judith Polo Club, Narragansett Pier, beginning July 22, is furnished b ythe notices of the clubs sent to the Polo Association. H. L. Herbert, the chairman, is in Europe, and the secretary, William A. Hazard, is acting in his place.

Both the senior and junior championships will be played from scratch, but no team may play in the latter whose aggregate handicap does not exceed 20 goals. No player with a higher handicap than five goals can compete in the junior championship. Consequently some clubs have filed a list of eight or ten players without specifying which championship the men are to play in, but in this case the handicap will bar such top-notchers as the international cup winners from the junior championship.

The nominations for the junior championship include the Kansas City Country Club, the first time a Western team has made an entry except on the single occasion when they were played at the Onwentsia Club, near Chicago. It will also be the first appearance of the Piping Rock Country Club in the championship tournaments.

Entries for the open championship close July 13, and also for the Atlantic cups. Entries for the Watch Hill, Overture and Army and Navy cups, for the latter event the army players engaging in an elimination tournament at Washington next week, all close July 9. No player may compete on more than one championship team, so that Messrs. Stoddard, Keene, Prince and Tweed, who have been named by more than one captain, must make their choice of clubs before the final closing of the entries.

MAY YOHE THE ATTRACTION.

Sings and Acts With Her Old-Time Attractiveness Before Big Freebody Park Crowd.

Freebody Park opened another week Monday with a record-breaking attendance and a capital bill. There was not a seat to be obtained anywhere and many stood at the back, filling all the standing room. The boxes were all occupied, many extra chairs being brought in to accommodate those in this part of the house.

The principal attraction was undoubtedly May Yohe, the well known singer who has had many matrimonial ventures, and in her monologue she referred to them in a scarcely veiled way. She sang two songs which showed that her voice, which was one of the most remarkable on the concert stage, has failed but little and her artistic power has lost none of its attractiveness.

Ah Ling Woo, a Chinese prestidigitateur, executed a number of clever feats, producing from apparently nowhere five full-grown ducks, five pigeons and three rabbits. His concluding act of producing a large bowl filled with water, and two ducks from the water, has rarely been equalled here. Feeley and Kelley are a good acrobatic team, one doing some unusual feats of tumbling, including turns and twists which seem almost impossible, and the other giving some enjoyable comedy. Signor Fossati gives an exhibition of what high-class music can be produced on an accordion, rendering classical as well as rag-time music with ease. Stanley and May have a fairly good singing and talking sketch.

The pictures are excellent, the feature in this line being the two-part Bison film, "On the Warpath," which is remarkable not only for the action but for the large number of men and women shown.

TO INTRODUCE THE MOOSE.

Principles of the Order Stated by Officials, Preparatory to Organizing a Lodge.

A well attended meeting was held in Newton hall Monday evening, preliminary to the organization in this city of a lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose. The speakers were National Organizer Arthur W. Hayden, Dictator Edward Riley of the Providence lodge, Eugene Robinson and Dr. John McCue, also of Providence, and Local Organizer Sullivan. They spoke of the growth of the order, which has increased since the start, 24 years ago, to a membership of 600,000, with local lodges in every state and territory in the Union; of its principles, founded on purity, aid and progress, and its purposes, to care for sick and distressed members and provide benefits for those dependent upon them. Many prominent men are already connected with the order, including members of Congress, governors of states and others in every walk in life. The order is endorsed by organized labor. It has a uniformed rank, a branch for women and a junior society for boys. It is expected to organize a large local lodge in Newport.

SUICIDE BY SHOOTING.

Dog Constable and Pound Keeper Cassius U. Hallock Takes His Own Life.

Dog Constable Cassius U. Hallock committed suicide Tuesday evening in the yard of his stable on Harrington street, by shooting himself through the right temple. This was about 5:40. Dr. Keenan was summoned and the ambulance took the injured man to the hospital, but nothing could be done for him and he died in about an hour, not regaining consciousness.

Just why he should have shot himself is a mystery to his many friends. It is known that he suffered severely from some bodily troubles and had been much disturbed mentally by the death of his son, but he seemed rational and did his work up to the very end. He had been called upon to dispose of a dog and reached his stable about 6:30, killing the dog. While Charles Harmon, who was assisting him in putting up the horse was in the stable he shot himself. At first it was thought that it must have been an accident, but it was learned that he was leaning against a post and did nothing while a boy was looking at him. The instant the boy turned around the shot was fired and Hallock was found lying on the ground.

The deceased was about 63 years of age and had been living here for the past 40 years, coming first as a soldier to Fort Adams and later working as a driver for several business firms in the city. He was elected dog constable in 1907 and did the work of that office so faithfully and promptly that last year, when there was trouble about stray cows, the chief of police suggested that Mr. Hallock would make a good pound keeper. He was elected to that position and did the work which came his way promptly and without unnecessary annoyance to any one. He had many friends, who liked him because he was honest and intended to do right to all.

He leaves a widow and five sons.

WORK PROGRESSING WELL.

Large Force Employed on Temporary Repairs to the New Hampshire.

Admiral Winslow Explains Anchorage and Harbor Master Shea Says There is Plenty of Room.

The preliminary repairs to battleship New Hampshire, injured in collision with steamer Commonwealth Sunday morning, are proceeding as rapidly as possible. A quantity of hard pine lumber was brought from Fall River Monday night to be used in the work. During Monday, under the direction of Naval Constructor Baxter, the wreckage on board the ship was cleared away and preparations were made for the construction of the cofferdam. Owing to the presence of several ships in the bay, as well as repair ship Panther, it was possible to assemble plenty of mechanics and it is expected that the ship can start for New York Friday or Saturday. The preliminary work is estimated at $600 and the complete repairs at $16,000, so that the damage is not so great from a financial point of view as some supposed.

Rear Admiral Winslow, commanding the Second division, has given out a statement in which he assumes entire responsibility for the anchoring of the New Hampshire where she was. He says she was located according to his orders, in what he considers a perfectly safe position for the vessel herself and for shipping on the bay. He also states that he personally plotted her place on the chart. The location of her anchorage, he goes on to explain at length, is one which gives mercantile vessels an abundance of deep water on every hand, and he suggests that if the regular course of the Fall River Line steamer carries it too far to the west of the Bishop bell buoy it is quite an unreasonable demand to claim so much of the waters of the bay for the navigation of these craft.

The admiral has gone over the situation with much care. According to his deductions it is one statute mile from the Newport dock to the Bishop buoy and there was 400 yards between the buoy and the battleship. A passage of the buoy at 100 to 200 yards on a course of one mile he considers a sufficient leeway for safety. Vessels leaving Newport harbor, he says, upon reaching the Bishop buoy must turn to the northward and eastward, and hence he cannot understand why they would wish to make the turn more than 100 or 200 feet from the bell buoy. Captain Appleby and his officers were invited to appear before the naval court of inquiry Monday.

A captain of a coasting schooner in the Providence Journal this morning makes a complaint against the nearness to the Dumplings of some of the ships. There is no ship close to the Dumplings and no ship or destroyer close enough to any point to make navigation difficult. The only trouble Sunday morning was that the New Hampshire could not be seen in the fog. The gray paint was selected because it is the most nearly invisible that was tested, and it proved this Sunday morning.

Had the ship been seen from the Commonwealth or had those on the New Hampshire seen the Commonwealth and given a warning signal there was plenty of room for the Fall River liner to pass. Captains of tugboats are passing up and down the bay day and night since the ships came in and there is no complaint from them. Harbor Master Shea says this schooner captain's complaint is not based on facts. There is abundant room for vessels to pass, and there would be if there were twice as many ships in port.

In a despatch sent out from New York David W. Taylor, naval constructor, of the bureau of construction and repair and senior member of the board on hull changes for vessels building on the Atlantic coast, is quoted as saying he was not surprised at the damage done and that it might easily have been more serious. "The propellers might have been damaged," he said, "though the Commonwealth probably did not strike deep enough below the water line to reach them."

Mr. Taylor explained that the damaged portion of the New Hampshire's stern above the water line was not armored. The plating there is from three eighths of an inch to one half inch thick, offering about the same resistance as the outer plating of the Commonwealth, which is a steel vessel.

The main armor protection for the New Hampshire is a complete belt nine feet three inches wide, with a thickness of from 11 to nine inches for 380 feet amidships, but tapering to four inches at the ends. This armor protects the "vitals" of the ship about the water line. The engines, magazines and turrets are well protected by armor, but the bow and stern of the vessel above the water line have little protection. In battle it would make little difference how many shells battered up the bow and stern of a vessel like the New Hampshire. The fighting efficiency of the vessel would not be seriously injured.

BUOY ON HOG ISLAND SHOAL

Placed by Coast Survey Steamer in Channel Where the Louisiana Grounded.

A United States Coast Survey steamer has been taking soundings in the vicinity of the southwest end of Hog Island, where the Louisiana grounded a week ago Saturday afternoon a buoy was planted on the outer or southerly side of Hog Island shoal. It was maintained by officers of the ballchips that a buoy formerly there was missing when the ship went aground. Boatmen of Bristol and Portsmouth say they do not remember a channel buoy being placed on the shoal since the lighthouse was built.

STOLEN ROWBOATS PICKED UP.

This is the season for stolen rowboats. Nicholas Alexandros, a Greek fisherman, picked up one with oars painted white and with the painter cut off short indicating a taking by other than the owner. The boat is of a model not known here and may have come from some distance. Another fisherman picked up one with two pairs of oars and with a "J" painted on the bow. This also is a stranger in Newport waters. These show that Newport boats are not the only ones stolen in the good old summer time.
